“The Fear Of The Lord

Is The Beginning Of Wisdom”

Psalm 111:10a

*Want of origin and purpose,
Need of destiny have we;
And within our age of turmoil
Men are searching desperately,*

*Seeking wisdom for their living,
Light for darkness, ease for strain,
Some escape from subtle dangers;
But alas, their quest is vain.*

*We have reason not to tremble
Though our knowledge be but dim;
For we know the great Creator
And all wisdom dwells in Him.*

In the classroom — un professeur excellent

Dear Fellow-candidate for Wisdom:

On the Celestial Computer what percentage has your wisdom quotient risen since last September? There may be a correlation between your growth in wisdom and your report card -- or there may not.

Let me explain. There's a lot of godless knowledge but there's not an ounce of godless wisdom. When you leave the flour out of the mix you may have many splendid ingredients but no cake. When you leave C+2r out of your wheel-making you may create an exotic design but you'll never roll. When you leave love out of marriage you may have cohabitation, but never a home. So when you leave God out of any calculation, since He is the basic ingredient, the central equation, the cohesive force of all existence you may have many delightful bits of information but you'll not have true wisdom. Such knowledge can only betray us by a shimmering illusion of reality.

The acknowledgement of God is the beginning of wisdom. Eternal life and ultimate meaning must begin with God. And every field of knowledge must begin here if it is to conform to reality. But more than that every bit of knowledge, to become related to ultimate reality, must begin with God.

What a thrilling thing! To find each piece of the puzzle fall into place when we establish God's position first. Wisdom doesn't tack religion on as an afterthought or rush God into the situation as an emergency measure. It begins with God.

Now then, how much growth has there been in your wisdom quotient? How habitual has it become to greet every problem, every plan, every new bit of knowledge with the question: "How does this fit with God?" And not as an academic question, either. "The fear of the Lord" -- it's a question of life commitment.

There has been great growth in your knowledge this year or you wouldn't still be here! I believe there has been growth in wisdom, too.

"And now, O Lord my God...I am but a little child...give thy servant therefore wisdom and knowledge, an understanding heart."

Yours for wisdom,

J. Robertson McQuilkin
President

And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, to keep the commandments of the Lord, and his statutes, which I command thee this day for thy good?

Deuteronomy 10:12-13
